Bringing Up Baby

This film was talking about a biologist who encounters a misfortune after meet with a goofball lady who has a leopard. This film is one of the old films that will make me laugh. There are a lot of dramatic moments and detail in the movie which creates a funny moment that will make me laugh.

One of the funny moments is when David met with Susan in the restaurant and Susan broke his clothes and hope her to leave him alone. The reason it makes me laugh is that he is rushed to let Susan leave him alone. When Susan is mad her skirt is broken, and he is trying to help her, but she did not realize that and continue to be mad while the crowds looks at them. When she finally found out and trying to leave, David found Mr. Peabody at the meantime he cannot forget to say "I will be with you in a minute" to Mr. Peabody which is the same that he says when he is at the golf court. I am impressed by the detail in the film that wrote by the scriptwriter and present by the actor. All of these tiny details build a huge and funny movie for the audience. I think without these details even in a dramatic scene can not make me laugh.
